"The Lost Wooden Synagogues of Eastern Europe"

Before World War II, more than 1000 wooden shuls dotted the shtetls of Eastern Europe... It was believed these structures were lost to the war. A team from Hebrew University discovered 6 of them. Then more were found... Using historical footage, expert commentary, and personal recollections of former Eastern Europeans who davened in these shuls, this film tells their stories... This is not only an informative and important documentary, but one that is deeply moving. Not to be missed.
