UPCOMING AT THE ISRAEL CENTER

- Shabbat afternoon, Nov. 25th, 3:00pm -- Yaacov Peterseil & Co. on the Parsha

December 5, 2:00pm "Ich Bin Jude, Ich Bin Jude" - Documentary on the resistance of Jewish youth movements in France in response to the German occupation and the oppression of Jews during World War II. The story is particularly that of the Jewish Scouts and the Zionist Youth Movement. The film consists of interviews with many of the men and women who had resisted and includes footage of the places where the event happened. (French with English subtitles.)
BONUS: After the film, the filmmakers, Bryan Barak Bard and Nicole Bard, will answer questions and discuss the story (in English).

December 19, 7:00pm "Gentleman's Agreement" - A film classic, considered by many critics and viewers to be one of the best movies ever made. Gregory Peck as a Christian journalist wishing to report on anti-Semitism. He assumes the identity of a Jew in order to experience the prejudice and hatred firsthand. He is shocked and horrified by what he discovers. Nominated for 8 Academy Awards, winner of three including Best Picture of 1947. A simply marvelous - and important - film. (2 hours)
